Community Food Growers' Network

CFGN is a member-led network rooted in London and its surroundings. We exist for the benefit of community food growers, local communities, their economy and the environment.

cooperation justice interconnection accessibility democracy care respect accountability fair pay decentralisation

Click to read our MANIFESTO four types of membership to choose from. Follow the decision tree below to decide which is the best fit for you or the organisation you are part of.

I am part of an organisation or group that is aligned with the manifesto

I am an individual food grower or community cook, aligned with the manifesto

yes

I have capacity and interest in getting involved with organising, decision making and development of the network as well as attending gatherings, events and trainings.

NB - paid opportunities possible

We have capacity and interest in getting involved with organising, decision making, network development, attending gatherings, events and trainings, and can act as representatives of our organisation / group.

NB - paid opportunities possible

Mamba

Active Member Organisation

I have capacity and interest to attend gatherings, events and trainings; receive and share updates with the network, and contribute to decision making now and then.

ho

Please consider supporting / following the network on social media, sharing our work, or by donating to us when you can.

ho

We have capacity and interest in attending gatherings, events and trainings; receiving and sharing updates and contributing to decisions now and then.

, ho

Associate Member Organisation

Associate Individual Member

•••••••••••

Active

Individual

Member

Found the right type of membership for you? ...join us! And help connect and resource London's radical food growing and making spaces.

To join, complete this short form or call 07407 760117